Orange Coast College Decision Making Document

SECTION 1: INTRODUCTION

The purpose of this document is to describe the structure, operational relationships, mechanisms, and agreements for making transparent and inclusive decisions at Orange Coast College that affect the well-being of our institution. We believe that the document represents the united voice of all constituents, and we are committed to our continued success as a premiere institution of higher learning. As a living document, it is updated as needed by the College Council. The College Council conducts a thorough review of this document every three years based on an evaluation prepared by the Institutional Effectiveness Committee.

The contents of this document derive from collegial consultation with a representative inclusive sample of faculty, classified professionals, administrators, and students. Our decision-making is guided by our college Mission Statement, College Values (C-L-A-S-S) and College Strategic Goals. (See Educational Master Plan 2016-2021)

Orange Coast College Vision Statement

To be the standard of excellence in transforming lives through education. (Approved 11/4/2014, College Council)

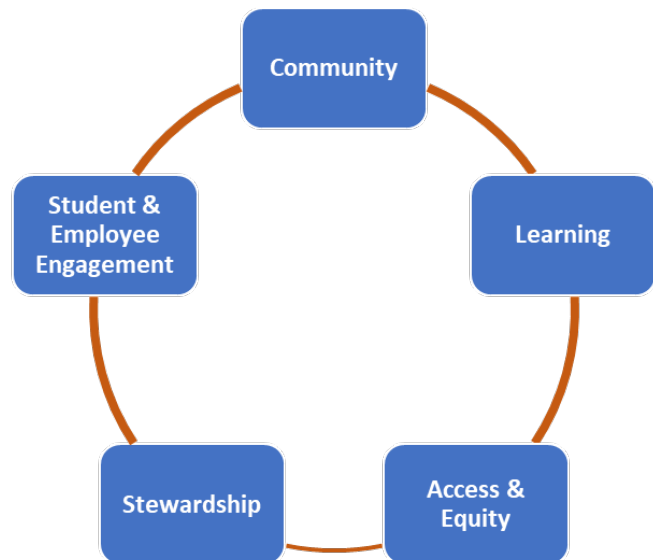

Orange Coast College Mission Statement

Orange Coast College serves the educational needs of a diverse local and global community. The College empowers students to achieve their goals by providing high quality, culturally responsive, and innovative programs and services through pathways leading to degrees, transfers, certificates, foundational skills, workforce development, and lifelong learning.

The college promotes student development, learning, and equitable outcomes by fostering a respectful, inclusive, caring, and participatory campus climate of student engagement and academic inquiry. (Endorsed 9/7/2021, College Council; Approved 11/3/2021, CCCD Board of Trustees)

Orange Coast College Values (C-L-A-S-S)

The five college values were derived from campus dialogue, reviewing Program Review plans, goals, and strategies and analysis discussed at the campus planning retreats held in 2007/2008. In fall 2010, a number of campus-wide forums contributed to updating the master plan and the values were re-affirmed. In 2014, the Institutional Effectiveness Committee proposed to College Council a change to the values that combined the value of "Sustainability" with the value of "Stewardship." Student and Employee Engagement was suggested as an addition. College Council endorsed this change in fall 2014 after consultation with constituent groups and campus-wide input through the OCC Lookout process (11/18/2014 College Council meeting). Further refinement of the college's goals and values occurred during the Educational Master Plan Refresh 2021-2027 by intentionally adding an equity focus to the college values by re-naming "Access" to "Access & Equity". These values continue to guide the college's planning process in its planning councils and in campus-wide Program Review

Orange Coast College Strategic Goals

During the Educational Master Plan review College Council recommended that the Values and Strategic Goals be viewed as distinct but aligned with one another (12/18/2014).

- Community: Foster an inclusive, diverse, race-conscious, and equitable culture through growing partnerships with local and global communities.
- Learning: Equitably engage all students in an inclusive, high-quality education geared towards maximizing their knowledge and lived experiences and facilitating the completion of their goals.
- Access & Equity: Create equitable access through effective and innovative pathways, programs, and services that result in increased student success.
- Stewardship: Create, Sustain, and improve programs, physical and human resources, infrastructure, and processes that ensure accountability, long-term viability, continuous improvement, equity, and environmental sustainability.
- Student & Employee Engagement: Foster a culture of care leading to meaningful connections, collaborative participation, and supportive spaces among people, places, and ideas within the College.

Timeline for Decision Making Document Review

The review of this document is overseen by the College Council. This document will be reviewed according to the following three-year cycle:

- Annually: Challenges and/or clarifications to roles, committees, and processes
- Every three years: Full document review

The review is announced by College Council and feedback is solicited according to this cycle. Changes requested outside of this cycle will be considered by College Council on a case-by-case basis.

SECTION 2: THE COLLEGE CULTURE

College Philosophy for Making Decisions

To improve our planning and decision-making, Orange Coast College commits itself to a culture of transparency, collegiality, inclusiveness, evidence, student learning and assessment. This serves as the foundation for participatory governance at the college, which values the contribution of each of its constituents—faculty, students, classified professionals, and managers—in the decision-making structures and processes that we have adopted.

The college embraces continuous improvement, as demonstrated by the periodic review of this document and other planning and resource allocation documents at the college. This document is aligned with the Mission Statement and the Educational Master Plan, which explicitly details the college's values (C-L-A-S-S) and goals. The Educational Master Plan provides the direction for making decisions at Orange Coast College, while this document outlines the process.

The college lives by the following principles during the decision-making process:

Collegiality and Inclusiveness

The college commits itself to creating a culture of collegiality and respect for all constituents. All participatory governance committees include representatives from each constituent group. The chairs of the committees may vary as well. The college recognizes the value of participation in decision-making processes at the college, and seeks to encourage faculty, classified professionals, students, and managers to join committees and participate in discussions.

We expect all committee members to respect one another as we share ideas, participate in dialogue, and express views and analyses during meetings. Committee members participate in governance with the understanding that professional disagreements do not warrant incivility. We may disagree with one another; we should express those disagreements; but we should do so in a civil manner. We overcome our disagreements democratically through majority rule. Many of our decisions, however, are reached through consensus, after thoughtful discussions.

To increase participation in the decision-making process, the college may convene town halls and open forums to which the entire college community is invited. The Office of the President will organize such events, publicize them in advance and encourage maximum participation to achieve quality discussions. An anonymous electronic survey system, OCC Lookout, also is used to solicit campus-wide input on policies, procedures, and campus planning.

Student Learning & Assessment

“How does it benefit our students?” is a central question that motivates committee members to put students and their needs at the center of our deliberations and discussions. Faculty, classified professionals, and managers work collaboratively and cooperatively to focus on broad issues that affect student learning and improve outcomes. The search for continuously improving our institution is grounded in our student-centered, collaboratively developed vision. This vision focuses our educational community as we help our students realize their educational goals. Of course, such questions require that we make evidence-based decisions.

Culture of Evidence

The college utilizes evidence to support its decisions. Evidence must be accurate, valid, and standardized to ensure consistency and greater precision in the interpretation of the data. The focus should be on using longitudinal data, benchmarks, and best practices. Much of the evidence for decision-making is the result of analyses from the campus-wide comprehensive program review process. In addition to program reviews conducted by departments, the Office of Institutional Effectiveness will provide a variety of statistics and data to inform discussion and decision-making. Information may include the results of surveys, data that we are required to report to the state like success and retention rates, as well as internal and external scans from documents such as the OCC Atlas and Educational Master Plan. The college is committed to using information to make better decisions. Each committee is encouraged to contact the Office of Institutional Effectiveness to seek out relevant analytics.

Innovation

The college supports innovative ideas and practices to stimulate improvement and progress. The college recognizes that change is inevitable but will not change for the sake of change alone. We will change if it is better for our students. We encourage the expression of ideas and approaches because we recognize that they may better serve our students. We will implement ideas and approaches when we have evidence to support the case that our students will learn more, become more likely to achieve their educational goals, and have an improved experience at the college.

Transparency and Communication

Transparency and communication are essential to making our decision-making processes work. The college is committed to making its processes transparent, and to communicating decisions to all college constituents. We recognize that communication is at the center of transparency. Our college leadership commits itself to encouraging the participation of all constituents. This requires that all constituents have the opportunity to become informed about our processes and outcomes, that such information is easily accessible, and that the leadership is available to explain processes and decisions to those who may have questions. Transparency is dependent on the commitment of the campus community by being and participating in committees, campus activities and taking advantage of information gathering opportunities. To this end, all committee meetings are open to the college community; faculty, classified professionals, students, and managers are invited to attend committee meetings, even if they are not members. Beginning in fall 2012, the following will be published on the OCC portal for participatory governance councils and committees:

- Membership (names of constituent representatives)
- Key decisions
- Meeting minutes
- Participatory governance committee monthly newsletter

Role of Constituents in the Decision-Making Process

Ultimately the president of the college has the authority for making campus decisions. However, if it is unclear as to how a decision should be made, the President's Cabinet will review the decision and route it to the appropriate body. Our processes are based upon the understanding that our decisions generally impact more than one constituent group or entity.

The college is committed participatory governance, the spirit of collegiality, and academic freedom in its decision-making processes. The defined roles of faculty, classified professionals, students, and administrators in decision-making processes came from the original Shared Governance document (June 1993). The philosophy statements for each group were taken primarily from the Shared Governance Manual (October 2007).

In addition to the campus governance structure, the Board of Trustees is responsible for setting district policy and priorities, and collective bargaining units negotiate working conditions, salaries, and benefits with the district.

Role of Faculty

Faculty member both full-time and part-time play an important role in all matters of decision making related to governance. They have an especially important role in matters pertaining to instruction, such as curriculum. Moreover, their input is considered especially vital when decisions are being formulated that are directly related to their particular field of expertise. The role of Orange Coast College's faculty is composed of carrying out (a) teaching, (b) service, and (c) applied research to improve student or program success as well as in making contributions to their respective academic fields and to the profession. However, of these, the teaching role is the most important because faculty members, as subject experts, spend the majority of their time in teaching-related work.

The overlapping cooperative relationship between faculty, the Coast Community College District (CCCD) Board of Trustees, college administration and the Union translates academic goals and values into college policy or action. The assumption of authority for each of these stakeholders in our institution derives from the authority vested by state and federal law and administrative policy created by the CCCD Board of Trustees. These policies are carried out by administration in consultation with all constituents.

The postsecondary educational model embraced by Orange Coast College ensures an acceptance of the tradition of participatory governance, the spirit of collegiality and academic freedom. This heritage of shared governance is the cornerstone of faculty involvement and the basis of the authority of the Academic Senate in matters pertaining to educational policy and curriculum decision-making under the 10 + 1. The role of faculty is grounded on the collegial governance model as an interdependent decision-making body. Each faculty member has the responsibility for contributing to the development of educational policy as well as academic and professional matters under the 10 + 1 as noted in the Coast Community College District Board Policy and Administrative Procedure #2510 and Title 5, Section 53200(c).

The Board of Trustees of the Coast Community College District, or such representatives as it may designate, will rely primarily upon the advice and judgment of the Academic Senate(s) in developing policies involving the following academic and professional matters (numbering sequence parallels Section 53200(c) of Title 5):

1. Curriculum, including establishing prerequisites and placing courses with disciplines
2. Degree and certificate requirements
4. Educational program development
5. Standards or policies regarding student preparation and success
7. Faculty roles and involvement in accreditation processes, including self-study and annual reports
8. Policies for faculty professional development activities
9. Processes for program review

On these matters, when the Board elects to rely primarily upon the advice and judgment of the Academic Senate, the recommendation of the Academic Senate will normally be accepted, and only in exceptional circumstances and for compelling reasons will the recommendations not be accepted.

The Board of Trustees of the Coast Community College District, or such representatives as it may designate, will reach mutual agreement with the representatives to the Academic Senate in developing policies regarding the following academic and professional matters (numbering sequence parallels Section 53200(c) of Title 5):

3. Grading policies
6. District and College governance structures, as related to faculty roles
10. Processes for institutional planning and budget development
- +1. Other academic and professional matters and mutually agreed upon

In instances where the Board of Trustees and the Academic Senate(s) cannot reach mutual agreement, existing policy shall remain in effect unless continuing with such policy exposes the District to legal liability or causes substantial fiscal hardship. In cases where there is no existing policy, or in cases where the exposure to legal liability or substantial fiscal hardship requires existing policy to be changed, the Board of Trustees may act, after a good faith effort to reach agreement, but only for compelling legal, fiscal, or organizational reasons (Title 5, 53203d2).

An Academic senate may assume such responsibilities and perform such functions as may be delegate to it by the Board of Trustees or its designee. The appointment of faculty members to serve on college committees shall be made, after consultation with the Chancellor or designee, by the Academic Senate (Title 5, 53203).

Administrative Retreat Rights: The Board of Trustees, in making its determination, is to rely primarily on the advice and judgment of the Academic Senates to determine the minimum qualifications of an administrator seeking faculty status. These procedures are to be mutually agreed upon between the Board of Trustees and the Academic Senates (California Education Code§ 87458 and Board Policy #7901).

Curriculum Committee: The composition of the Curriculum Committee is to be established through mutual agreement between the Academic Senate and management (Title 5 Code of Regulations § 55002(a)(1)).

Equivalencies: Equivalencies to minimum qualifications process, criteria, and standards are to be agreed upon by the Board of Trustees or designee and the Academic Senates (California Education Code§ 87359).

Faculty Hiring: Faculty hiring criteria, policies, and procedures are to be agreed upon by the Board of Trustees or designee and the Academic Senates (California Education Code § 87360).

- Board Policy #7901
- Adopted June 20, 1990
- Renumbered from CCCD Policy 050-1-16, Spring 2011
- Renumbered from CCCD Policy 7815
- Revised September 2, 2015

Role of Classified Professionals

Classified professionals are valued for the critical role they play in providing support to the other three major constituency groups (i.e., faculty, administration, and students). They are expected to have a strong voice in governance matters because of their unique perspectives, their experience, and their commitment to the overall success and well-being of the college. When chosen as a voting member of a participatory governance group it does not imply that classified professionals will assume the role of administrative support for the committee. Classified professional participation in participatory governance shall include the following:

- College and district encouragement, and support of classified professionals to engage in participatory governance.
- Recognition of the need of all college constituencies to participate in the decision-making process.
- Opportunities for classified professionals to participate in the formulation and development of district and college policies and procedures and, in those processes, for jointly developing recommendations for action by the governing board that have or will have a significant effect on classified professionals.
- Participation made possible by support from supervisors that allows and encourages classified professional participation (e.g., adjusting workloads, exercising flexibility and substitution, etc.)
- Classified professional representation and participation on district and college committees.
- Classified professional committee members selected by classified professionals.

Role of Students

Students also are valued for their unique perspective. Their equal stake in the college's success and well-being gives them equal responsibility in creating a strong and representative voice. Their participation on committees is intended not only to help the college but also to provide students with experience in governance (Coast Community College District BP/AP #2510 and Title 5 Section 51023.7).

Role of Administrative Leadership

Orange Coast College administrators are charged with performing duties unique to their roles on the campus. These duties, which are exclusive to their employment responsibilities as managers, include but are not limited to:

The Board has specific responsibilities, including, but not limited to the following areas:

- Approve the appointment of all District employees.
- Participate in Board Committees and Auxiliary Organizations.
- Advise the Student Trustee.
- Issue direction to the District's chief negotiator.
- Approve all attorneys and investigators that perform service to the District;

- Prepare for meetings by reviewed agendas and supporting materials.
- Serve as communication liaisons to their constituencies.
- Communicate regularly with their constituencies both formally and informally to represent discussions.
- Regularly provide factual explanations of policies, processes, and decisions to their constituency.
- Use any of their areas of expertise to inform discussions.
- Attend all meetings. Members cannot delegate their vote or duties to proxies. If regular attendance is going to be an issue, members should request a replacement from their constituency and the Committee Chair. Frequent absences may be referred back to their constituency for review.
- Engage in respectful discussion, especially when expressing dissenting opinions. Discourse should focus on interests and issues and not personalities and motives.
- Hold themselves and others accountable for the tone and content of their contributions.
- Determine and support agreed upon decision-making processes and accept decisions taken using these processes.
- Familiarize themselves with the Decision-Making Document, commonly used terms, and their definitions.
- Commit to the role of constituent group representative when consensus is being formed or a vote is required.

Committee Self-Evaluation

The Committee Self-Evaluation process for planning councils and participatory governance committees occurs on a three-year cycle and utilizes evidence internally from the committee and externally from its constituent base to facilitate dialogue. Each committee uses the Eight Factor Model of Committee Effectiveness as the framework for their self-evaluation. This tool is used to diagnose the strengths and weaknesses of a committee in order to improve the way the committee is functioning as a group, and also to improve the results the committee is achieving. Results and action plans from the self-evaluation are reported to College Council and acted upon to improve committee results, morale, focus, communication, processes, and the committee structure as a whole.

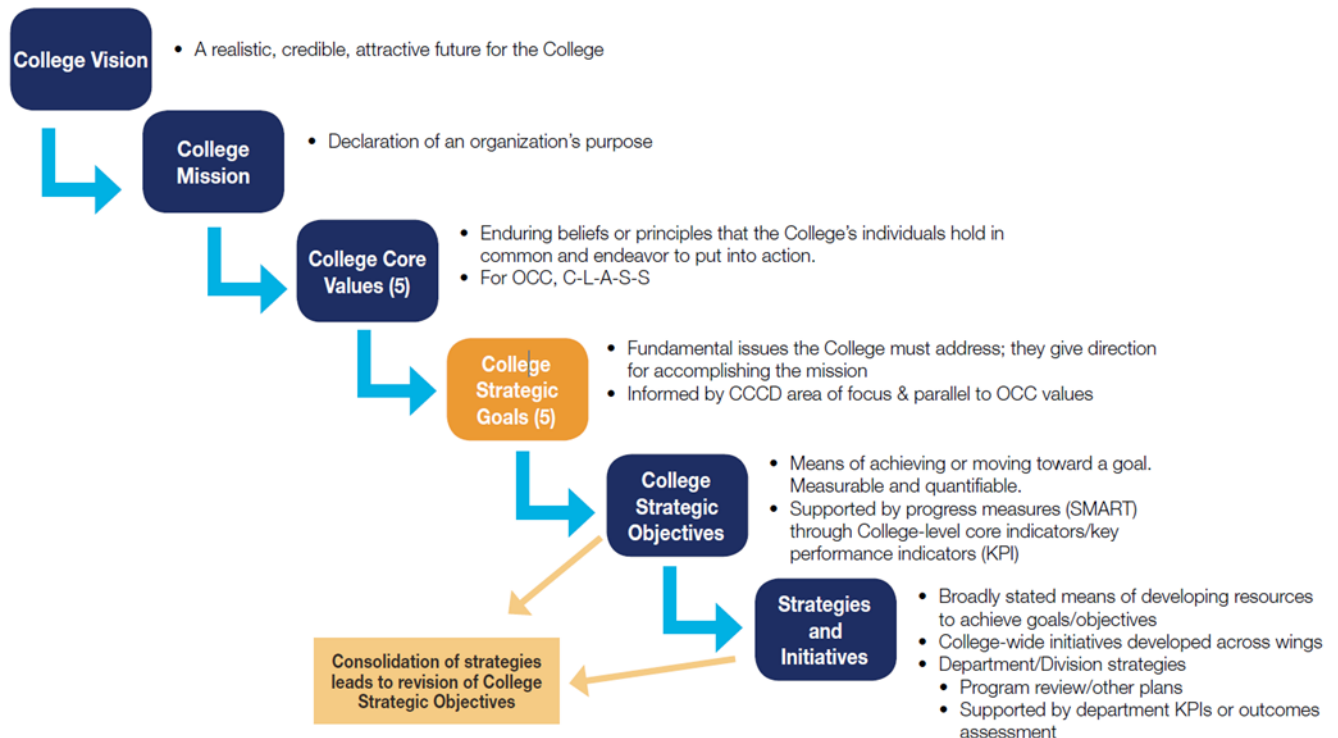

SECTION 3: OVERVIEW OF PLANNING AND SEQUENCES FOR KEY COLLEGE DECISIONS

Educational Master Plan

The College Council oversees the creation of the Educational Master Plan six-year plan that is reviewed annually for progress and every three years comprehensively. The Educational Master Plan includes the college's strategic goals objectives and initiatives. It is developed using the following resources:

- Planning assumptions
- Accreditation Standards
- District Strategic Plan
- State and Federal Regulations
- Campus-wide forums
- Progress/completion of each of the Wing Planning Council's 3–6-year plans (incorporating program review and SLO/AUO assessment)
- Participatory Governance structure

Terminology

College Planning & Resources Allocation

Orange Coast College's Educational Master Plan outlines the college's planning process and how comprehensive program reviews and SLO assessment relate to the mission and vision and are the basis for the college's planning process.

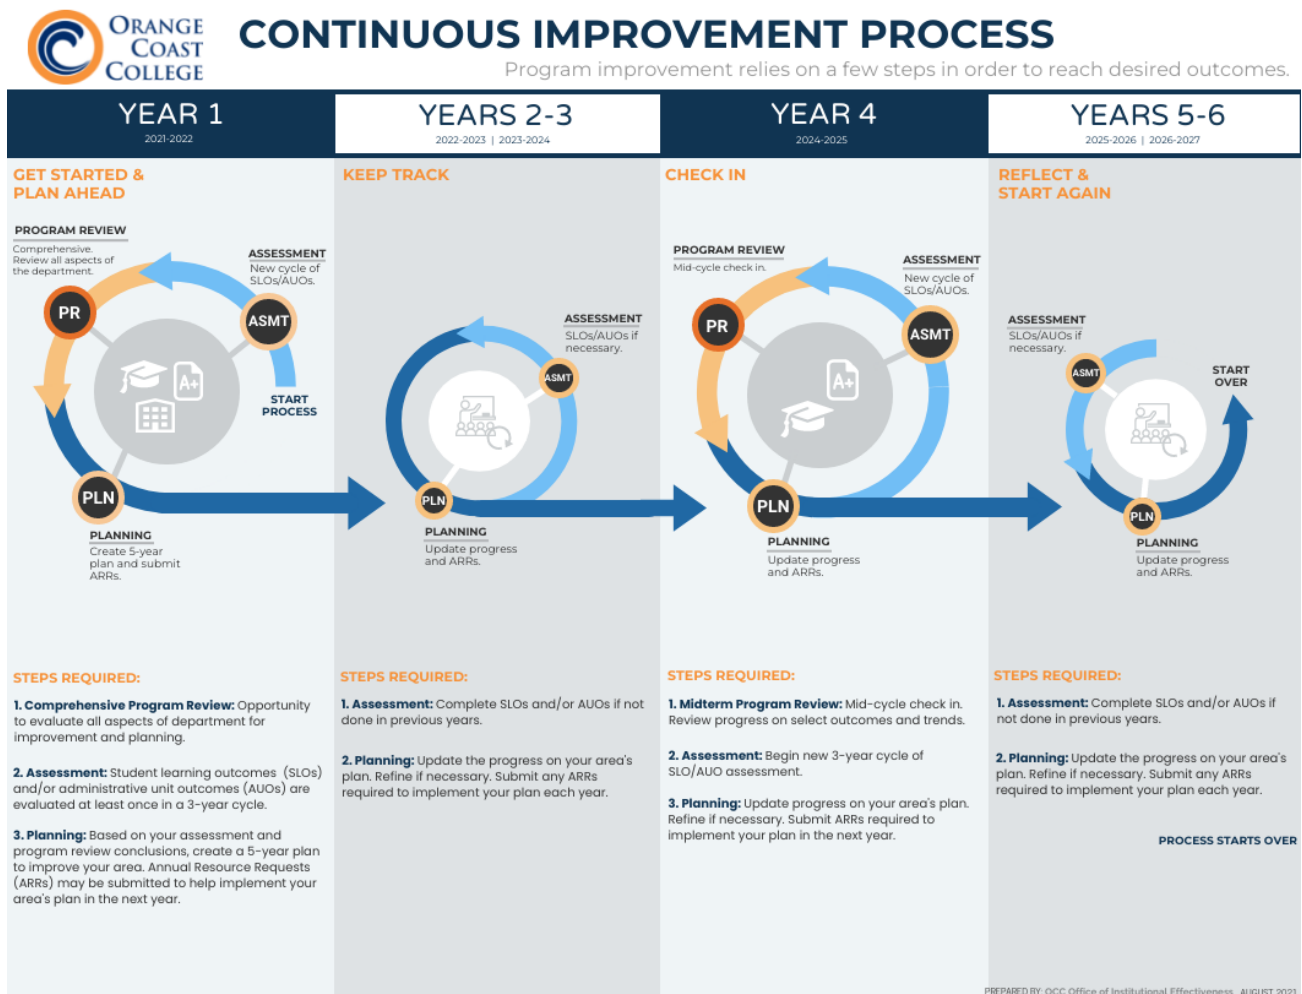

Each of the college wings (Institutional Advancement & Effectiveness, Instruction, Student Services, and Administrative Services) develops a three-year strategic plan (called a Wing Plan) describing each department's/program's strategies/initiatives and expected outcomes, which are tied to college strategic goals and objectives. Each department/program initiatives related to the master plan are initially identified in either their Comprehensive or Midterm Program Review.

Resource needs arising from the wing's three-year strategic plans are documented in the Annual Resource Requests (ARRs). Annual Resource Requests include facilities, technology, equipment, professional development, supplies, human resources (not including full-time faculty), and "other" category. ARRr are reviewed annually and prioritized by the following:

- Departments/Divisions
- Wing Planning Councils
- Campus-wide integration by the Orange Coast College President's Cabinet

The college's main planning council, the College Council, oversees these processes and provides feedback and endorsement to the President before the prioritizations are finalized.

The college's integrated program review, outcomes assessment, planning, and resource allocation model is depicted in the graphic below.

Resource Plans

To support the completion of the Educational Master Plan, specific plans have been developed in focused areas. The administration, in direct consultation with the appropriate committee, ultimately is responsible for the development of resource plans, considering the District's Strategic Master Plan and District's Technology plan.

College Resource Plans include:

- Facilities Master Plan
- Technology Plan
- Strategic Enrollment Management Plan
- Student Equity Plan
- Diversity, Equity, Inclusion & Accessibility 1.0 Plan

Resource committees review ARR's to ensure consistency with the Educational Master Plan. The committee report potential problems, trends, or conflicts with existing infrastructure to President's Cabinet during the prioritization process.

Program Review

The purpose of program review is continuous program improvement. All campus departments conduct a Comprehensive Program Review (CPR) every six years in order to review their role in achieving the college's mission, understand their program's strengths, identify key areas for improvement and create a workable plan for achieving the desired improvements and outcomes. The six-year department plans that result from this process are integrated into the appropriate three-year strategic wing plans, directly link to the Educational Master Plan, and are reviewed annually. CPR also produces department level plans that improve or enhance a department/program but may not be explicitly linked to the master plan. The CPR process results in campus-wide planning driven by data analysis and guided by the college's goals for effective decision-making. After three-years, all campus departments conduct a Midterm Program Review (MPR) that serves as a check-in point and for the department to assess their progress over the past three years. During MPR, departments will review their initially set six-year plans and will conduct a substantive review/revision for the remainder of the six-years. From these updates, three to six-year strategic wing plans will be renewed/developed by the wings. MPR consists of an analysis of their most recent cycle of outcomes assessment (SLO/AUO/PSLO), department planning progress, external factors, and other relevant data. MPR leads to the revision of existing planning strategies for another three-year cycle or addition of new strategies. The program review processes are documented in the college's Program Review Guides. The ARR process allows for requests to be made based on assessment evidence that may occur outside of a program/department's program review cycle.

Annual Planning Updates and Annual Resource Requests (ARR)

Each department identifies any resource needs that are necessary to achieve their planning strategies aligned with the college's strategic goal(s) by completing an Annual Resource Request (ARR) after updating their planning strategies annually. All ARR's are reviewed by the applicable resource committees and prioritized through the various planning councils, then submitted to the President's Cabinet for an integrated prioritized recommendation. The integrated prioritized recommendation is sent to College Council for review and endorsement and the College Budget Committee for resource allocation and budget development.

Integration of Student Learning Outcomes (SLOs) and Administrative Unit Outcomes (AUO) Assessment

Student Learning Outcomes are developed and assessed for all courses, instructional programs, and some student services programs. Administrative Unit Outcomes are developed for all campus support services. Each department is responsible for the implementation of their course and program SLO or AUO assessment. The college's Institutional SLOs are directly linked to General Education Outcomes. The faculty assessment and improvement coordinator in consultation with the faculty are responsible for the ISLO/GE outcomes assessment. Learning outcome plans and assessment results are synthesized and documented in the Comprehensive and Midterm Program Reviews. Results of assessments are reported annually and used to make improvements in programs and services. Planning strategies can be added annually through the Annual Planning Update process and resource requests can be made through an Annual Resource Request (ARR). All SLOs and AUOs are assessed on a three-year cycle ending the year prior to a Comprehensive or Midterm Program Review year.

Nuventive Solutions System for Documenting Program Review, SLO/AUOs and Planning

Solutions is an integrated database that collects, and stores information related to these vital processes. Solutions is accessed through the Office of Institutional Effectiveness Portal Site. Faculty, classified professionals, and managers with access are automatically authenticated into Solutions. Access is overseen by the Office of Institutional Effectiveness. These general permission rules apply:

- Each department manager is provided update access to their Solutions unit(s) and managers/department chairs/leads request either update or inquiry access for other members.
- For instructional divisions, the division dean and department chair/faculty lead are provided update access to unit(s) under their purview; however, the division dean will only be given view access to course SLO units.

Beyond the Scope of the Budget Requests (BSB)

BSBs accommodate unexpected needs outside of the college's formal planning and resource allocation processes. BSB should not include personnel requests or ongoing expenses. The Resource Allocation Process Chart illustrates how the BSB process is integrated and requested.

Beyond of the Scope of the Budget (BSB) requests are those that cannot wait until next budget cycle are brought forward by the department to the manager of the area. BSB requests can be brought forward at any time of the year and require justification of why they were not included in the program's annual planning and annual resource requests (ARRs).

An annual equipment repair budget is available for unplanned repairs. Please access the Equipment Repair Funding Request Form from the OCC Website Annual Equipment Repair Budget Link

Alignment of College and District Continuous Improvement Processes

A seven-year review cycle has been developed collaboratively with the Coast Community College District. This cycle ensures alignment between district planning and college planning. It also aligns with the college's accreditation cycle to ensure that program review (comprehensive and midterm) and SLO/AUO assessment cycles are completed prior to the development of the college's accreditation self-evaluation report.

Full-Time Faculty Hiring Prioritization Process

Note: Full-Time Faculty Hiring Prioritization Process does not apply to full-time categorically funded faculty.

Classified Professional and Manager Hiring Process

Planning for new classified professional and manager hires is an annual process triggered by the Annual Resource Requests (ARR). New positions in the ARR, in most cases, are justified through the Comprehensive Program Review (CPR) process. Positions identified for hire not justified through the CPR require an additional justification detailing why the position was not cited in the CPR and why it is needed.

Recognizing that emergency and replacement hires will be needed outside of this annual process, the following steps are followed.

- Vacant positions will be evaluated for permanent replacement or hourly backfill. A Notice of Vacancy form is completed by the hiring manager and forwarded to President's Cabinet through the process below.
- Positions identified for permanent replacement by the President's Cabinet will be evaluated against the current annual hiring priorities.
- Funding sources are a critical variable to hiring decisions and can be determining factor in how and when vacancies are hired.
- Positions deemed a higher priority than existing annual prioritization will be communicated by the Vice Presidents to their areas. They should be identified at the beginning of the process.
- Note: Process may be modified during Board of Trustees adoption (or imposition) of a hiring freeze.

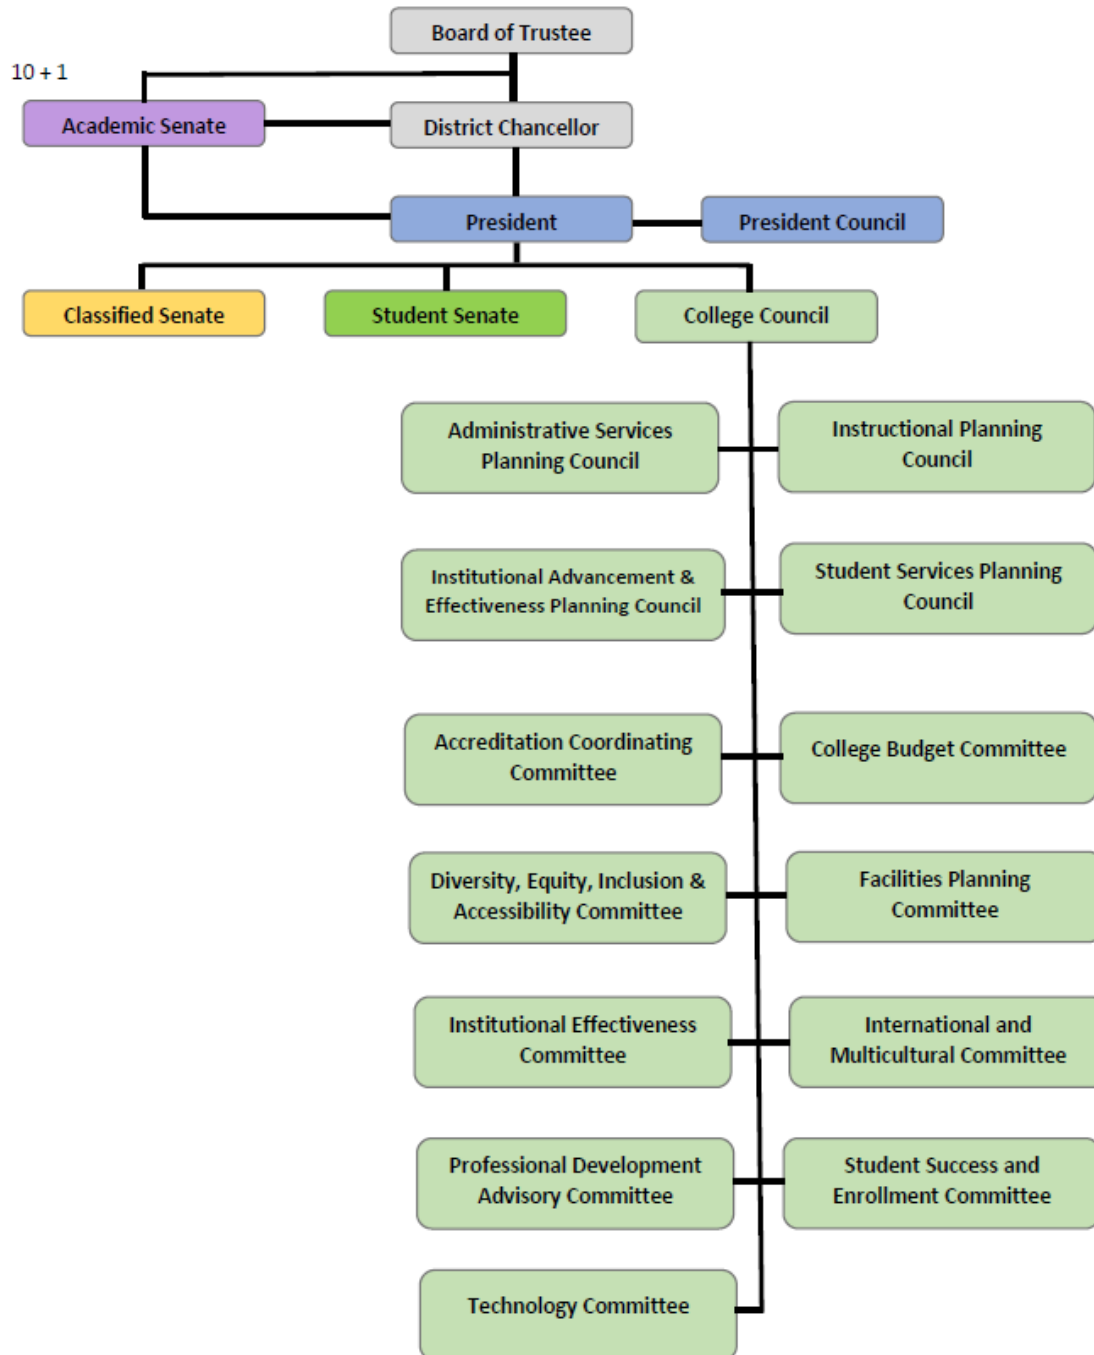

Notice of Vacancy Process

SECTION 4: PLANNING & GOVERNANCE

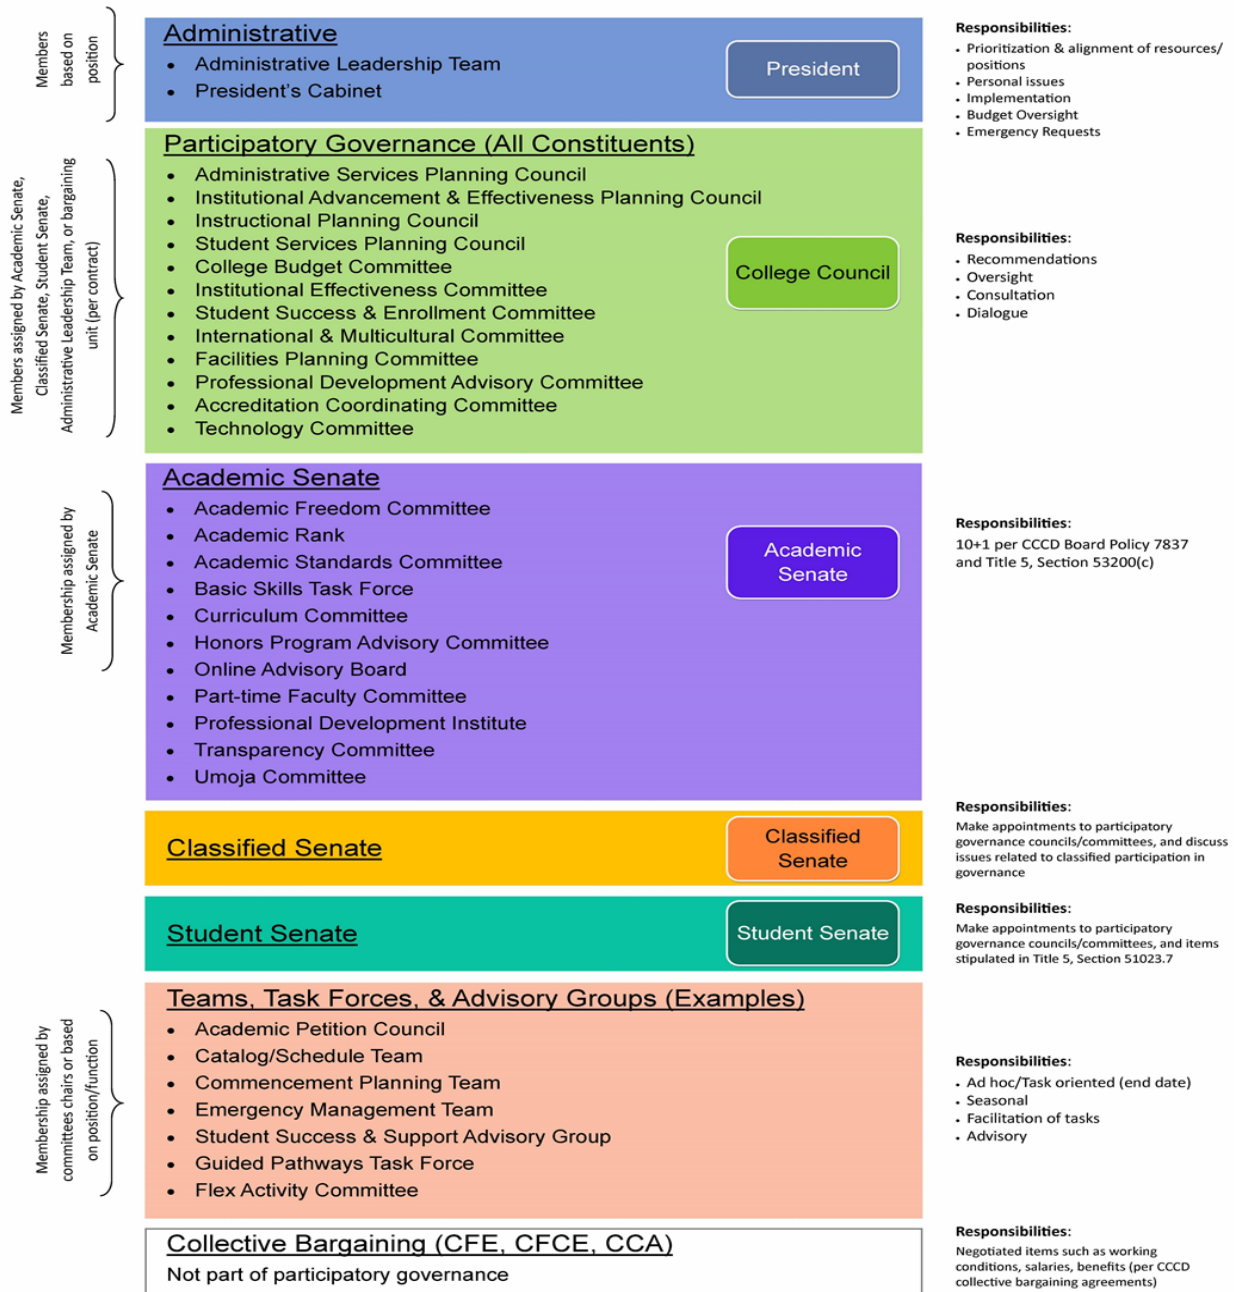

Planning Committee Structure

The diagram below represents the college's planning committee structure, which is not the same as the college's administrative structure. The planning councils are directly aligned with the administrative structure whereas the other planning committees represent focused campus-wide planning areas. The committees are color-coded based on their governance classification (see Governance and Operating Structure).

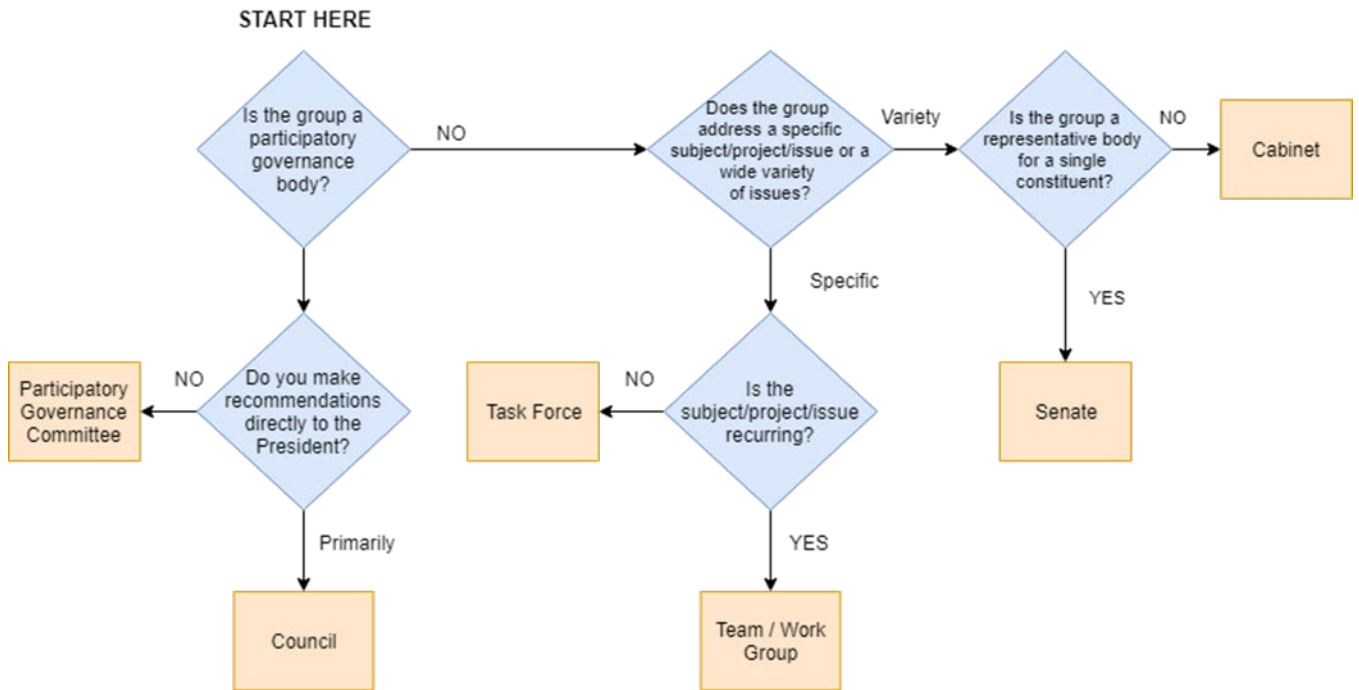

Governance and Operating Structure

The diagram below represents the college's governance structure. It identifies how members are assigned to councils/committees and the type of responsibilities for each group.

Participatory Governance Groups

Planning Council and Committees' Responsibilities, Annual Agenda Guidelines and Membership

The following includes the responsibilities, annual agenda guidelines, and membership for planning councils, planning committees, and cabinets (refer to Planning Committee Structure diagram on page 28). Annual agenda guidelines are established by the College Council to facilitate the completion of required planning processes and the college's goals as stated in the Educational Master Plan. Membership on all planning councils and planning committees is reviewed on an annual basis. Unless stipulated by position, members are appointed by their respective constituent group (see Governance and Operating Structure Page 29) for a two-year cycle (one-year for student representatives). Members may be reappointed by their constituent groups. It is important that committees review "Role of Committee's Member's Participation and Collegiality" (page 15) annually to discuss attendance and participation expectations of the committee.

The total apportionment is computed by the State assuming a certain level of growth and including a projection for the property tax and enrollment fees that will be collected. If on a statewide basis the property tax and/or the enrollment fees do not meet the projection made by the Department of Finance, then a deficit will be applied to the apportionment for each district.

For example: If a classroom could hold 40 students for 50 hours per week, then its capacity would be 40 times 50 which equals 2000. If the actual number of students utilizing that room for any given week was 1000 then the capacity load ratio would be 2000/1000 or exactly 2.00. As a percentage that would be 200%. That says that the capacity is 200% of the usage or load. A high percentage shows low usage while a low percentage shows a high usage. The percentage is computed separately for classrooms, laboratories, offices, and other miscellaneous types of rooms.
