Making Decisions: A Guide to Planning and Governance
SECTION 1: INTRODUCTION

The purpose of this document is to describe the structure, operational relationships, mechanisms and agreements for making transparent and inclusive decisions at Orange Coast College that affect the well-being of our institution. We believe that the document represents the united voice of all constituents, and we are committed to our continued success as a premiere institution of higher learning. As a living document, it is updated as needed by the College Council. A thorough review of this document is conducted every three years by the College Council based on an evaluation prepared by the Institutional Effectiveness Committee.

The contents of this document derive from collegial consultation with a representative inclusive sample of faculty, staff, administrators, and students. Our decision making is guided by our college Mission Statement, Institutional Commitment, College Values (CLASS), and College Goals (see Educational Master Plan 2011-2015).

ORANGE COAST COLLEGE MISSION STATEMENT

Orange Coast College serves the educational needs of our diverse local and global community. The college empowers our students to achieve their educational goals by providing high quality and innovative programs and services leading to academic degrees, college transfer, certificates in career and technical education, basic skills, and workforce development to enable lifelong learning. The college promotes student learning and development through fostering a respectful, supportive and participatory campus climate of student engagement and academic inquiry.

ORANGE COAST COLLEGE VALUES (CLASS)

The five college values were derived from campus dialogue, reviewing Program Review plans, and goals, strategies, and analysis discussed at the campus planning retreats held in 2007/2008. In fall, 2010, a number of campus wide forums contributed to updating the master plan and the values were re-affirmed. These values guide the college’s planning process in its planning councils and in campus-wide Program Review.

Community: We value a culture that serves, engages, and connects all campus and community members.

Rationale: We believe that the health of our organization is dependent on our diverse campus, open dialogues, inclusive decision making, and community culture.

Learning: We value measured learning outcomes that guide continuous improvement. The Institutional Student Learning Outcomes (ISLOs) are Communication, Thinking Skills, Global Awareness, and Personal Development and Responsibility.

Rationale: We believe that evidence must be used to improve the learning process, which is a holistic process and engages the entire campus.
Access: We value effective and equitable access to support services, learning resources, and instructional programs in a welcoming and supportive atmosphere.

Rationale: We believe equal access and success is achieved by providing pathways to achievement of life-long educational, professional, and personal goals that provide opportunities for an improved quality of life.

Stewardship: We value programs, resources and infrastructure that ensure compliance, accountability and long-term economic viability.

Rationale: We believe in maintaining a fiscally sound educational institution that exceeds the expectations of our students and community.

Sustainability: We value practices that maintain and improve the environment and contribute to the quality of life for future generations.

Rationale: We believe in fulfilling our responsibility to current and future generations, recognizing that change is ongoing and necessary for continual improvement.
SECTION 2: THE COLLEGE CULTURE

College Philosophy for Making Decisions

To improve our planning and decision making, Orange Coast College commits itself to a culture of collegiality, inclusiveness, evidence, student learning and assessment, and transparency. This serves as the foundation for participatory governance at the college, which values the contribution of each of its constituents—faculty, students, staff, and managers—in the decision making structures and processes that we have adopted.

The college embraces continuous improvement, as demonstrated by the periodic review of this document and other planning and resource allocation documents at the college. This document is aligned with the mission statement and the Educational Master Plan, which explicitly details the college’s values (CLASS) and goals. The Educational Master Plan provides the direction for making decisions at Orange Coast College, while this document outlines the process.

The college lives by the following principles during the decision making process:

Collegiality and Inclusiveness
The college commits itself to creating a culture of collegiality and respect for all constituents. All participatory governance committees are composed of a variety of constituents, and the chairs of the committees may vary, as well. The college recognizes the value of participation in decision making processes at the college and seeks to encourage faculty, staff, students, and managers to join committees and participate in discussions.

We expect all committee members to respect one another as we share ideas, participate in dialogue, and express views and analyses during meetings. Committee members participate in governance with the understanding that professional disagreements do not warrant incivility. We may disagree with one another; we should express those disagreements; but we should do so in a civil manner. We overcome our disagreements democratically through majority rule. Many of our decisions, however, are reached through consensus, after thoughtful discussions.

To increase participation in the decision making process, the college may convene town halls and open forums, to which the entire college community is invited. The Executive Cabinet of College Council will organize such events, publicize them in advance, and encourage maximum participation to achieve quality discussions.

Student Learning & Assessment
“How does it benefit our students?” is a central question that motivates committee members to put students and their needs at the center of our deliberations and discussions. The faculty, staff, and administration work collaboratively and cooperatively to focus on broad issues that affect student learning and improve outcomes. The search for continuously improving our institution is grounded in our student-centered, collaboratively-developed vision, which focuses our educational community as we help our students realize their educational goals. Of course, such questions require that we make evidence-based decisions.

Culture of Evidence
The college utilizes evidence to support its decisions. Evidence must be accurate, valid and standardized to ensure consistency and greater accuracy in the interpretation of the data. The focus should be on using longitudinal data, benchmarks and best practices. Much of the evidence for decision making is the result of analyses from the campus-wide comprehensive program review process. In addition to program reviews conducted by departments, the Office of Institutional Research will provide a variety of statistics and data to inform discussion and decision making. Information may include the results of surveys, data that we are required to report to the state like success and retention rates, as well as internal and external scans from documents like the OCC Atlas and Educational Master Plan. The college is committed to using information to make better decisions. Each committee is encouraged to contact the Office of Institutional Research to seek out relevant analytics.
Making Decisions: A Guide to Planning and Governance

Innovation

The college supports innovative ideas and practices to stimulate improvement and progress. The college recognizes that change is inevitable, but will not change for the sake of change alone. We will change, if it is better for our students. We encourage the expression of novel ideas and new approaches because we recognize that they may better serve our students. We will implement novel ideas and new approaches when we have evidence to support the case that our students will learn more, become more likely to achieve their educational goals, and have an improved experience at the college.

Transparency and Communication

Transparency and communication are essential to making our decision making processes work. The college is committed to making its processes transparent, and to communicating decisions to all college constituents through a variety of platforms, including e-mail, the OCC portal, the college website, videos, and open forums. We recognize that communication is at the center of transparency. The leadership commits itself to encouraging the participation of all constituents, which requires that all constituents have the opportunity to become informed about our processes and outcomes, that such information is easily accessible, and that the leadership is available to explain processes and decisions to those who may have questions. To this end, all committee meetings are open to the college community; faculty, staff, students, and managers are invited to attend committee meetings, even if they are not members. Beginning fall 2012, the following will be published on the OCC portal and college website for participatory governance councils and committees:

- Membership (names of constituent representatives)
- Key decisions
- Meeting minutes
Role of Faculty, Staff, Students, and Administrators in the Decision-Making Process

Campus based recommendations and decisions typically fall under:

Administrative Responsibilities
Participatory Governance through councils and committees
Academic Senate
Classified Senate
Student Senate

Ultimately the president has the authority for making campus decisions. However, if it is unclear as to how a decision should be made, the Executive Cabinet of the College Council will review the decision and route it to the appropriate body. Our processes are based upon the understanding that our decisions generally impact more than one constituent group or entity. In addition to the campus governance structure, the Board of Trustees is responsible for setting district policy and priorities, and collective bargaining units negotiate working conditions, salaries, and benefits with the district.

The college is committed participatory governance, the spirit of collegiality, and academic freedom in its decision making processes. The defined roles of faculty, staff, students, and administrators in decision-making processes came from the original Shared Governance document (June 1993). The philosophy statements for each group were taken primarily from the Shared Governance Manual (October 2007).

The Board of Trustees has the responsibility for setting district policy.

Role of Faculty

Faculty members—both full- and part-time—play an important role in all matters of decision making related to governance. They have an especially important role in matters pertaining to instruction, such as curriculum. Moreover, their input is considered especially vital when decisions are being formulated that are directly related to their particular field of expertise. The role of faculty at OCC is composed of carrying out (a) teaching, (b) service, and (c) applied research to improve student or program success as well as in making contributions to their respective academic fields and to the profession. However, of these, the teaching role is the most important because faculty members, as pedagogic subject experts, spend the majority of their time in teaching-related work. Since AB1725 has become a part of the fabric for faculty participation, the need for collaboration has increased.

The overlapping cooperative relationship between the faculty, the Coast Community College District (CCCD) Board of Trustees, college administration and the Union translates academic goals and values into college policy or action. The assumption of authority for each of these stakeholders in our institution derives from the authority vested by state and federal law and administrative policy created by the CCCD Board of Trustees. These policies are carried out by administration in consultation with all constituents.

The postsecondary educational model embraced by OCC ensures an acceptance of the tradition of shared governance, the spirit of collegiality and academic freedom. This heritage of shared governance is the cornerstone of faculty involvement and the basis of the authority of the Academic Senate in matters pertaining to educational policy and curriculum decision making under the 10 +1. The role of faculty is grounded on the collegial governance model as an interdependent decision-making body. Each faculty member has the responsibility for contributing to the development of educational policy as well as academic and professional matters under the 10 + 1 as noted in the Coast Community College District Board Policy #7837 and Title 5, Section 53200(c).

The Board of Trustees of the Coast Community College District, or such representatives as it may designate, will rely primarily upon the advice and judgment of the Academic Senate(s) in developing policies involving the following academic and professional matters (numbering sequence parallels Section 53200(c) of Title 5):

1. Curriculum, including establishing prerequisites and placing courses within disciplines
2. Degree and certificate requirements
3. Standards or policies regarding student preparation and success
4. Educational program development
5. Faculty roles and involvement in accreditation processes, including self-study and annual reports
6. Standards or policies regarding student preparation and success
7. Faculty roles and involvement in accreditation processes, including self-study and annual reports
8. Policies for faculty professional development activities
9. Processes for program review.
10. Processes for institutional planning and budget development

On these matters, when the Board elects to rely primarily upon the advice and judgment of the Academic Senate, the recommendation of the Senate will normally be accepted, and only in exceptional circumstances and for compelling reasons will the recommendations not be accepted.

The Board of Trustees of the Coast Community College District, or such representatives as it may designate, will reach mutual agreement with the representatives to the Academic Senate in developing policies regarding the following academic and professional matters (numbering sequence parallels Section 53200(c) of Title 5):

3. Grading policies
4. Educational program development
5. District and College governance structures, as related to faculty roles
6. Standards or policies regarding student preparation and success
7. Standards or policies regarding student preparation and success
8. Standards or policies regarding student preparation and success
9. Processes for program review.
10. Processes for institutional planning and budget development

In instances where the Board of Trustees and the Academic Senate(s) cannot reach mutual agreement, existing policy shall remain in effect unless continuing with such policy exposes the District to legal liability or causes substantial fiscal hardship. In cases where there is no existing policy, or in cases where the exposure to legal liability or substantial fiscal hardship requires existing policy to be changed, the Board of Trustees may act, after a good faith effort to reach agreement, but only for compelling legal, fiscal, or organizational reasons (Title 5, 53203d2).

An Academic Senate may assume such responsibilities and perform such functions as may be delegate to it by the Board of Trustees or its designee. The appointment of faculty members to serve on college committees shall be made, after consultation with the Chancellor or designee, by the Academic Senate (Title 5, 53203 (f)).

Administrative Retreat Rights: The Board of Trustees, in making its determination, is to rely primarily on the advice and judgment of the Academic Senates to determine the minimum qualifications of an administrator seeking faculty status. These procedures are to be mutually agreed upon between the Board of Trustees and the Academic Senates (California Education Code § 87458 and Board Policy 050-1-16).

Curriculum Committee: The composition of the Curriculum Committee is to be established through mutual agreement between the Academic Senate and management (Title 5 Code of Regulations § 55002(a)(1)).

Equivalencies: Equivalencies to minimum qualifications process, criteria, and standards are to be agreed upon by the Board of Trustees or designee and the Academic Senates (California Education Code § 87359).

Faculty Hiring: Faculty hiring criteria, policies, and procedures are to be agreed upon by the Board of Trustees or designee and the Academic Senates (California Education Code § 87360).

Adopted May 5, 1993
Revised May 18, 2011
Replaces CCCD Policy 060-1-10, Spring 2011
Role of Staff

Classified staff members are valued for the critical role that they play in providing support to the other three major constituency groups (i.e., faculty, administration, and students). They are expected to have a strong voice in governance matters because of their unique perspectives, their experience, and their commitment to the overall success and well-being of the college. Classified staff participation in participatory governance shall include the following:

1. College and district encouragement and support of classified staff to engage in participatory governance;
2. Recognition of the need for all college constituencies to participate in the decision-making process;
3. Opportunities for classified staff to participate in the formulation and development of district and college policies and procedures and, in those processes, for jointly developing recommendations for action by the governing board that have or will have a significant effect on classified staff;
4. Participation made possible by support from supervisors that allows and encourages classified participation (e.g., adjusting workloads, exercising flexibility and substitution, etc.);
5. Classified representation and participation on district and college committees;
6. Classified committee members selected by classified employees.

The success of any policy depends upon the process of consensus and its widespread acceptance. While decisions may take longer through this process, they are better decisions because there is broad commitment to their successful implementation.

Role of Students

Students are also valued for their unique perspective. Their equal stake in the college's success and well-being gives them equal responsibility in creating a strong and representative voice. Their participation on committees is intended not only to help the college but also to provide students with experience in governance (Coast Community College District Board Policy #3901).

Role of Administrative Leadership

Orange Coast College administrators are charged to perform duties unique to their roles on the campus. These duties, which are exclusive to their employment responsibilities as managers, include but are not limited to:

Participatory Governance
- Consult collegially but expeditiously to serve staff, students, and the community;
- Ensure that the teaching of students and the quality of programs and services improve through participatory governance processes;
- Serve as an advocate for all constituencies;
- Serve on and coordinate campus committees as appropriate.

Planning, Fiscal, & Compliance
- Anticipate and plan for the future direction of college programs and services;
- Consider and represent campus-wide needs and interests in the decision-making process;
- Be accountable for developing and overseeing budgets for college programs and services;
- Respond to outside regulatory and community agencies.
Human Resources

- Assist staff to achieve their professional goals and potentials;
- Carry out the requirements of District contracts, including labor contracts;
- Coordinate search committees for faculty, staff, and administrative hiring in accordance with shared policies;
- Fulfill individual contractual obligations for the duration of tenure as administrative employees;
- Make final selection and/or employment recommendations to District Board;
- Oversee and approve absences, including personal and professional leaves;
- Determine and assign duties of faculty and classified staff in accordance to the contracts;
- Respond to staff and student grievances, as well as resolve personnel conflicts;
- Oversee conditions of employee working environments;
- Initiate progressive disciplinary action when necessary.
SECTION 3: OVERVIEW OF PLANNING AND SEQUENCES FOR KEY COLLEGE DECISIONS

Creation of Educational Master Plan

The College Council oversees the creation of the college-wide 5-year plan that is reviewed annually for progress and every three years comprehensively. The college-wide plan includes the college’s goals, wing objectives, and wing and departmental strategies. It is developed using the following resources:

- District’s master plan and goals
- College mission, vision and values
- Planning assumptions
- Campus-wide forums
- Progress/completion of each of the Wing Planning Council’s 3-year plans (incorporating program review and SLO assessment)

College Planning & Resource Allocation

Orange Coast College’s Educational-Master Plan outlines the college’s planning process and how comprehensive program reviews and SLO assessment are the basis for the college’s planning process.

Each of the college wings (Institutional Advancement & Effectiveness, Instruction, Student Services, and Administrative Services) develops a three-year plan describing their wing objectives, department’s/program’s strategies and expected outcomes, which are tied to college goals and directly related to Program Review results.

The College Council Executive Cabinet (CCEC) develops the strategic annual priorities and reviews them with the College Council. The strategic annual priorities address the realization that not all goals can be achieved in a single year. Fiscal and student success trends at the local, state and federal level are analyzed by the CCEC in their determination of the strategic annual priorities.
Resource needs arising from the wing plans are documented in the Annual Resource Requests (ARRs). Annual resource requests include facilities, technology, equipment, staff development, human resources, and an “other” category. ARRs are reviewed annually and prioritized by the following:

- Wing Planning Councils
- Campus-wide integration by Orange Coast College President’s Cabinet

The college’s main planning council, the College Council, oversees these processes and provides feedback to the President before the prioritizations are finalized.

Supplemental Plans

To support the completion of the Educational Master Plan, specific supplemental plans have been developed in focused areas. The administration, in direct consultation with the appropriate support committee, is ultimately responsible for the development of supplemental plans. Supplemental plans include:

- Enrollment Management Plan
- Facilities Master Plan
- Finance Plan
- Human Resources/Staff Development Plan
- Technology Plan

Resource committees, with the exception of the Enrollment Management Committee, review ARRs to ensure consistency with supplemental plans. The committees report potential problems, trends, or conflicts with existing infrastructure to President’s Cabinet during the prioritization process. The Enrollment Management Committee reviews the integrated three-year plan to ensure consistency with the Enrollment Management Plan, and reports potential problems or conflicts to College Council.

Committee Self Evaluation

Institutional Effectiveness oversees the Committee Self Evaluation process for planning committees. This process is a regular review process for the wing planning councils and other planning committees. This process occurs on a year-three cycle. The self-evaluation process utilizes evidence internally from the committee and externally from its constituent base to facilitate dialogue within the committee. Each committee uses the Eight Factor Model of Committee Effectiveness as the framework for their self-evaluation. This tool is used to diagnose the strengths and weaknesses of a committee in order to improve the way the committee is functioning as a group, and also to improve the results the committee is achieving. Results and actions plans from the self-evaluation are reported to College Council.

Program Review

The purpose of program review is continuous program improvement. All campus departments conduct a Comprehensive Program Review (CPR) every three years in order to review their role in achieving the college’s mission, to understand their program’s strengths, to identify key areas for improvement and to create a workable plan for achieving the desired improvements and outcomes. The three-year plans that result from this process are annually integrated into the appropriate wing plans and directly link to the Educational Master Plan. Each department identifies any resource needs that are necessary to achieve the strategic goal(s) by completing an Annual Resource Request (ARR). All ARRs are reviewed by the applicable resource committees and prioritized through the various planning councils, then submitted to the OCC President’s Cabinet for an integrated recommendation. The integrated recommendation is sent to College Council for informational purposes and the College Budget Committee for resource allocation and budget development. The CPR process demonstrates campus-wide planning driven by data analysis guided by the college’s goals for effective decision-making. The program review process is documented in the college’s Program Review Guide.

Integration of Student Learning Outcomes Assessment

Student learning outcomes are developed and assessed for all courses and programs. This includes instructional and support areas. Each department is responsible for the implementation of their course and program student learning outcomes assessment. The college’s Institutional Student Learning Outcomes are directly linked to General Education Outcomes. The faculty assessment and improvement coordinator along with divisional SLO leads are responsible for the ISLO/GE outcomes assessment. Learning outcome plans and assessment results are synthesized and documented in the Comprehensive Program Review. Results of assessment are reported annually and used to make improvements in programs and services. The ARR annual process allows for requests to be made based on assessment evidence that may occur outside of a program/department’s program review cycle.

Educational Master Plan Review and Development Process

The Educational Master Plan (EMP) is a five-year plan that includes an annual review of progress with a structured three-year review, revision and extension of goals and objectives. The structured three-year review includes a review of the college’s vision, mission and values as well as progress towards the goals and objectives outlined in the EMP. During this three-year review, changes to the goals and objectives may occur based on goal/objective completion or changes to the college’s mission, student population or student needs. After this review, the EMP is renewed for the next five years with a final review at the original five year point. An annual review of the college’s progress towards the goals and objectives occurs annually. The EMP rolling cycle through 2023-2024 is outlined below.

(Dec)
New Classified Staff and Manager Hiring

Planning for new classified and manager hires is an annual process triggered by the Annual Resource Request (ARR) process. New positions in the ARR, in most cases, are justified through the Comprehensive Program Review (CPR) process. Positions identified for hire not justified through the CPR require an additional justification detailing why the position was not cited in the CPR and why it is needed.

Recognizing that emergency hires will be needed outside of this annual process, the following steps are followed:

- Mission critical positions will be identified by management and evaluated for permanent replacement or hourly backfill.
- Positions identified for permanent replacement by the President’s Cabinet will be evaluated against the current annual hiring priorities.

SECTION 4: PLANNING & GOVERNANCE

Planning Committee Structure

The diagram below represents the college’s planning committee structure, which is not the same as the college’s administrative structure. The planning councils are directly aligned with the administrative structure whereas the other planning committees represent focused campus-wide planning areas. The committees are color-coded based on their governance classification (see Governance Structure).

Although not represented on this chart, Teams & Task Forces may be assigned by councils and committees on an ad hoc basis.
Governance Structure

The diagram below represents the college’s governance structure. It identifies how members are assigned to councils/committees and the type of responsibilities for each group.
Planning Council and Committees’ Responsibilities, Annual Agenda Guidelines, & Membership

The following includes the responsibilities, annual agenda guidelines, and membership for planning councils, planning committees, and cabinets (refer to Planning Committee Structure diagram). Annual agenda guidelines are established by the College Council Executive Cabinet to facilitate the completion of required planning processes and the college’s goals as stated in the Educational Master Plan. Membership on all planning councils and planning committees is reviewed on an annual basis. Unless stipulated by position, members are appointed by their respective constituent group (see Governance Structure) for a two-year cycle (one year for student representatives). Members may be reappointed by their constituent groups.

Academic Employees These are employees in positions for which the Board of Governors has established Minimum Qualifications. The term generally includes faculty (including librarians and counselors) and educational administrators.

The ACC monitors and reports progress on the implementation of accreditation recommendations and standards.

Academic Senate (OCC) The Academic Senate represents the faculty to the Governing Board on academic and professional matters. The CCCD Board of Trustees agrees to engage in collegial consultation with the Academic Senate as described in Board Policy 7837, and in the Role of Faculty section of the Decision Making Document.

The total apportionment is computed by the State assuming a certain level of growth and including a projection for the property tax and enrollment fees that will be collected. If on a statewide basis the property tax and/or the enrollment fees do not meet the projection made by the Department of Finance, then a deficit will be applied to the apportionment for each district.

Capacity Load Ratio This number is computed by comparing the total number of students that a classroom or laboratory could accommodate during the primary hours of a week with the number of students that actually use the classroom or laboratory during that same time frame. For example: If a classroom could hold 40 students for 50 hours per week then its capacity would be 40 times 50 which equals 2000. If the actual number of students utilizing that room for any given week was 1000 then the capacity load ratio would be 2000/1000 or exactly 2.00. As a percentage that would be 200%. That says that the capacity is 200% of the usage or load. A high percentage shows low usage while a low percentage shows a high usage. The percentage is computed separately for classrooms, laboratories, offices, and other miscellaneous types of rooms. If the ratio is too high then the State will indicate that the district will not qualify for capital outlay funding for that type of facility. In addition the operating costs for the District will be high if the ratio is too high.

Weekly Student Contact Hours (WSCH)  A measure of how many hours’ credit students are enrolled in, including lecture, laboratory and other modes of instruction. This term refers to a computation used for reporting purposes to the Chancellor’s Office. Thus if an instructor had an average class size of 35 for 15 hours in one week, then that instructor’s WSCH would be 35 times 15 which equals 525. When adjusted for a 16-week schedule this figure is 595. In the apportionment process WSCH always refers to the computation that takes place each semester during the census week. During the census week the WSCH for all instructors are combined and the total WSCH determines the amount of apportionment that will be received for courses that operate for the full semester.
